

The Face of MULTICULTURAL AND GLAMOUR INTERIOR DESIGN

PERLA LICHI Perla Lichi Design

At the age of 6, Perla Lichi's innate talent was already evident as she arranged her collection of dolls from around the world, each dressed in their native garb, and nailed them over her bed to create a feature wall. A self-proclaimed multicultural designer, her passion is fueled by her love of people, intuitive sense of balance and feng shui, astrology, numerology, and her Mexican, Mediterranean and Turkish roots. Spirituality plays a tremendous role in her award-winning work, and she has designed (or simply "glamorized") everything from synagogues to mansions.

"When you go to my house, you can see my soul and my history. My clients have their own unique souls, and I reflect theirs in every job I do," explains Perla.

One look at her online videos, and one has to wonder why her talents and effervescent personality have not landed her her own reality television series. "I'm ready! Just do my hair and makeup and I'm on," she laughs.

Perla Lichi has had her game on in the luxury interior design world since 1984, from magnificent turnkey residential and commercial projects to those just needing a touch-up or updating—quickly, reasonably and artistically. "I know where to put the money so it looks expensive," she says.
